Drs. I. Howard Fine, Richard Hoffman and Mark Packer were honored for their extraordinary contributions in research by Peace-Health Oregon Region Board of Directors at the Fourth Annual Clinical Research Recognition Dinner in Eugene, Oregon.

Eugene, Ore. – Drs. Fine, Hoffman and Packer were honored for their extraordinary contribution in research and Dr. Fine was asked to give one of three presentations at the 2009 Clinical Research Recognition Dinner sponsored by Sacred Heart Medical Center Foundation and the Peace-Health Oregon Region board of Directors at the Fourth Annual Clinical Research Recognition Dinner.

The invited audience included all medical staff members and guest, members of the Peace-Health Oregon Region board of Directors and Sacred Heart Medical Center Foundation boards, members of the University of Oregon scientific community, guests from Oregon Health Sciences University and others. This program is now viewed to be one part of a much broader platform of activity surrounding collaborative research efforts of the physician and university communities.

Drs. Fine, Hoffman and Packer, LLC are one of a select group of practices that are continually involved in the research and clinical investigation of the latest intraocular lens designs and cataract removal technologies. Due to our relationship with the ophthalmic industry, we are able to offer some of the most advanced and safest cataract surgery technology and the most advantageous intraocular lens designs to our patients many years before they become available to the general public.
